Background

A civil rights attorney with a passion for social justice and civil rights, Crockett sought to expand her objectives while in the state House to the federal level

Born and raised in St. Louis, Missouri, Crockett received her bachelor's degree from Rhodes College, and after experiencing hate crimes firsthand, decided to go to law school; moved to Texas to earn her law degree from the University of Houston.

In 2010, Crockett served as chair of the Bowie County Democratic Party but lost in an election for the county's district attorney position

A criminal defense and civil rights attorney, Crockett served as an assistant public defender before starting her own law firm; during protests against police brutality in the summer of 2020, Crockett represented Black Lives Matter protesters who were arrested pro bono

Elected to the state House in a competitive runoff election in July 2020; after serving in the state House for a year before running for Congress, Crockett filed the greatest amount of bills among first-term state representatives, co-founded the state House's Progressive Caucus, and pushed for voting rights and criminal justice reform measures
